

Dear customer,

In DLM INTERNATIONAL we are aware of the relevance of adaptation in the videogames industry, depending on the different types of markets. The developing of every title should be perfectly adapted to the culture and language it is aiming to.

We recently expanded the scope of our services by creating a Quality Assurance Department that will supervise all the texts contained in the game, validating grammar, syntax, spelling and localization in every platform, making sure the game is correctly edited.

Our services would be divided in two sections:

ABCD

LINGUISTIC TEST

Checking the localization is correct in the selected language, making sure the cultural aspects and its coherence in the context are maintained.

FUNCTIONAL TEST

Once the linguistic test is undertaken, our qualified staff will check the game's functionality in order to make sure it is ready for the market in any platform.
